YOU CAN BE PART OF
PRESERVING AVIATION'S PAST, FOR AVIATION'S FUTURE!

WE NEED VOLUNTEERS for Planes of Fame's first ever ArchivaPalooza!

Once upon a time, one man vowed to save one example of every World War II airplane. He founded Planes of Fame, the oldest Air Museum in the western United States, with more than 35 airplanes meticulously maintained in flying condition and 100 more as static displays.

Founder Ed Maloney also saved everything that went along with the airplanes - books, technical manuals, magazines, and photographs. But unlike the airplanes, over 1,200 boxes of precious historical content are hidden away in dark corners of the Museum.

No one knows what the collection might contain. We need your help to uncover and catalog this archive!

On Veteran's Day weekend, Planes of Fame is hosting a three-day, all-volunteer, cataloging effort called 'ArchivaPalooza' that will identify those materials and build the library that was part of the Founder's dream, and we invite you to join us!

Why volunteer? Aside from unearthing the mysterious treasures of the Planes of Fame, volunteers will receive a raffle ticket for every shift worked. The raffle Grand Prize is a flight in our vintage Stearman! Volunteers will also receive a guest pass to Planes of Fame to visit the Museum another day. Snacks and beverages will be provided all day, and lunch will be provided.

Please join us as we work to make this hidden cache accessible for future generations!
